Dear Members and Friends,

The time has arrived! Thanks to the hard work of a number of people and everyone’s patience with the process, we will be moving into our new home at 3220 Fulton St. on August 7th. This is a special moment in the development of San Francisco Village, like getting the keys to our first apartment. It’s exciting to imagine the freedom and creativity that our new digs will inspire in us, while deepening our sense of commitment to the larger San Francisco community. From a fledgling grassroots start-up eight years ago to a long-term community asset today, we’re announcing, “We’re here to stay!”

We’d love to see you at one of two gatherings planned for later this month to show you around, share our plans for how we think we’ll inhabit the space, and activate your thinking about ways to flourish in our new home: Tuesday, August 29 from 4:00 – 6:30 p.m. and Thursday, August 31 from 10:00 a.m. – noon. Friends, family, and volunteers welcome!

On October 12th we will host a ribbon-cutting event from 4:00 – 7:00 p.m. We hope you can drop by as we say thank you to City officials, donors, volunteers and members whose consistent support of our mission has made this achievement possible. Every day I am reminded that we are part of a much larger aging services network in San Francisco that includes advocates, service providers, thought leaders and colleagues who share our vision for an intergenerational community that dignifies aging.

Not coincidentally, this is also the month that we launch our new website. I think you will be as delighted as we are with its fresh, contemporary look and ease of navigation. We’re planning some training sessions in the fall to familiarize you with it and demonstrate how it can make communication with us easier. So stay tuned!
Finally, I’m thrilled that San Francisco Village is forming a team to participate in the Walk to End Alzheimer’s on Sunday, September 10th at Crissy Field. The length of the walk varies from one to three miles, depending on your preference and Sarah is scheduling some practice walks between now and then. Please consider joining the team for a delightful day in the sun and a sense of camaraderie that together, we’re helping to change the course of this devastating disease.

I look forward to seeing you soon!

Warmly,
Kate

UCSF offers a Housecalls Program through the Division of Geriatrics at UCSF. The purpose of the program is to provide doctors and service to homebound seniors. Older adults can become homebound for a variety of reasons. Narrow staircases, hills, architecture of San Francisco, physical illness, and mobility issues are just a few things that might influence the use of the program. If you would like to learn more, please call (415) 514-3577 or visit http://geriatrics.ucsf.edu/care/housecalls.html.

August Events

On the Road to the Summer of Love Docent Tour
Friday, August 4, 11:00 AM
California Historical Society, 678 Mission St.
RSVP to (415) 387-1375 or info@sfvillage.org

CHS’s ambitious exhibition in celebration of the 50th anniversary of the Summer of Love tells the story of the countercultural movement in San Francisco through photographs. In the summer of 1967, young people from across the country converged in San Francisco's Haight-Ashbury district. In this exhibition, guest curators Dennis McNally and Alisa Leslie explore the cultural context—from the Beat poets to the experimental art scene—that put San Francisco at the center of a social revolution.

The story begins in the late 1950s with the Beatniks in North Beach and ends in late 1967 with the Diggers' Death of the Hippie ceremony. The exhibition explores iconic moments—such as Jack Weinberg in a police car at UC Berkeley at the birth of the Free Speech Movement—as well as less well-known, but none-the-less formative, events. Photographs and ephemera from CHS collections are featured alongside materials from private and institutional lenders.

All members and volunteers and their friends and family are invited to join us in walking, fundraising, and/or donating to raise awareness and funds for Alzheimer’s care, support and research. There is no agenda other than to generate meaningful, energetic conversation free from judgment. The only requirement is that participants show up with an open heart and open mind, and allow themselves to go where they need to go. People from all backgrounds are welcome to attend the conversations: young, old, people who have not had experience with death, and people who are facing their own end of life.

This gathering is open to San Francisco Village members, volunteers, and their friends and family. RSVP is required.

Summer of Love: Your Aging Brain
Monday, August 21, 7:00 – 8:30 PM
Auditorium, IOA, 3575 Geary Blvd.
Tickets $5-$15
Purchase online at https://www.eventbrite.com/e/the-summer-of-love-your-aging-brain-tickets-36235829341

According to the MacArthur Foundation, health that continues into old age is only about 15 to 30% determined by our genetic heritage. The remainder is mainly determined by our lifestyle choices and behaviors, psychology, environment and life events. While it's true that we lose brain cells as we age, the myth that we lose thousands that cannot be replaced is simply that – a myth.

We invite you to join Jefferson-Award Winner, Patrick Arbore, EdD, Founder of The Friendship Line at Institute on Aging, as he takes us on a summer-evening trip through the aging brain.

The facts will, indeed, set us free.

What’s Trending

Volunteer of the Month-Jill Waller
Jill Waller was introduced to San Francisco Village by her neighbor, Ellen Sandler, an SFV member and Board member. Ellen invited Jill to attend the Transforming Lives and Community Luncheon as her guest, and after doing so, Jill decided to get involved with the Village community. She started volunteering for members by helping out with projects like organizing, rearranging back decks, gardening, and participating in the spring Day of Service.

Jill has also taken advantage of the benefits offered to volunteers, most recently by attending the SF Deltas soccer game with her husband, as guests of the Village. This social gathering became an opportunity for Jill to meet other volunteers and members of the organization.

In a few short months, Jill has immersed herself in the Village community and become a trusted and valued volunteer. We are grateful for Jill’s dedication and are proud to honor her as volunteer of the month!

What has surprised you most about volunteering for SFV?
Everyone is so friendly and open to conversation … Not that this is surprising, but I’ve found it relatively easy to make a connection with the people I’ve met. We’ve had really nice visits, and I hope to see them more.

What are the benefits of volunteering with SFV?
For me, the primary benefits are making new friends, and doing something aligned with my beliefs and values.

What advice would you give to those thinking about volunteering?
Volunteering at SFV is very flexible – it’s a great opportunity to help people without needing to commit to a certain time frame or duration. It’s easy to fit in and so enjoyable.

Does volunteering with SFV help foster community?
Activities and events, such as the SF Deltas soccer game and the Day of Service are certainly community-oriented. I also believe that the more we volunteer, the more receptive and open we are to others we encounter in the community in our daily lives.
Final thoughts
I am interested in, and believe in, the right to quality of life at all ages and stages. I’m so glad to have an opportunity to be a part of SFV!

Legacy: the Origins of Civilization
A member-led planning committee will host a series of viewings and discussions of the PBS series Legacy: the Origins of Civilization; each of the six episodes charts the origin of civilization in a different country. The narrator is Oxford-educated Michael Wood, author of 11 books, creator of dozens of acclaimed documentaries and a fellow of the Royal Historical Society of London.

The series will likely start in late September, probably on Tuesday mornings from 11:00 AM – 12:30 PM. If you are interested in attending, please contact the SFV office and let them know if you’d rather meet weekly for six weeks or every other week for 12 weeks. For further information please contact Bill Haskell at bhaskell@sonic.net or Mary Moore Gaines at mmg@sonic.net.

Life in Focus: Sharing Experiences on Single Subjects
In this new six-part series, SFV members will be asked to focus on memories related to a specific subject and why they formed part of who we are. By hearing many experiences—important to trivial—from a variety of angles, we should enrich our understanding of both the topic at hand and each other. Come to share or just listen.

This is continuing in the vein of the recent WOW! series that proved to be so rewarding. The first program will deal with the subject of Animals: What is a memorable experience you’ve had with an animal? Do animals really communicate, have empathy? Can they be prophetic? In subsequent meetings, we’ll share our thoughts about such things as: Children That Weren’t Mine, Political Activism, Friendship, Public Speaking, Making a Home, The Military, and Childbirth. The organizers are open to further suggestions.
Contact Karen Crommie for more information, including when the series will begin, at kcrommie@comcast.net or 415-431-1414.

He will tailor the presentation to your interests. “In Laos I have pictures of the Lao New Year ‘water festival’, scenes of various Lao cities, and pictures of many different Lao Buddhist temples. Burma, now called Myanmar, is a Buddhist ‘wonderland’ with about a million Buddhist temples, pagodas, and stupas. The ShweDagon Pagoda is the 'National Buddhist temple' covered with 60 tons of gold and about $1B worth of gem stones.” If you are interested, please contact Mitchell at (415) 335-3182.
